ERRING HUSBAND FAILS TO PROSECUTE WATCHMAN

The case against J. P. Hendrix, night watchman, who was arrested in connection with the shooting of Frank P. McFogelson, 235 Garland avenue, was dismissed Tuesday in city court, when McFogelson failed to appear as prosecutor.

Hendrix shot McFogelson in the leg when the latter sought to evade arrest after a quarrel with his wife at Madison avenue and Second street Tuesday afternoon. Pettis said he broke the package of edibles in unloading them and did not think it amiss to take a little.

MINOR OFFICIAL GOING TO BERLIN

Charge of Embassy Will Be
Title of American Post-
War Diplomat.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Charge of embassy will be the rank of the first American diplomatic representative to Germany after the ratification of the peace treaty, for not until sufficient time has elapsed to test the workings of the treaty and the spirit in which the present government of Germany undertakes to carry out its provisions will the representative give place to a fully accredited ambassador. This plan, it was learned today, also will be followed by the senate governments.

Out of consideration for the senate, which might resent any action on the part of the executive branch anticipatory of the disposition of the treaty, it was said today that at present it was not possible to announce the name of the person who will assume the important office of charge at Berlin, but it was intimated that the selection would be made from the ranks of some of the embassy secretaries, who, by reason of long service and training are regarded as equipped for the discharge of the heavy and responsible duties connected with the re-establishment of full diplomatic relations with the late enemy country.

There is no disposition, it was learned, to reduce the rank of the American diplomatic representation in Germany, which still remains one of the great nations of the world. But it is understood to be planned to make such change in the case of Austria and Hungary. Separated into two states, the two countries will be regarded as properly entitled to missions only and there will be a minister plenipotentiary provided for each.

The Turkish embassy also is due for reduction in rank, it was learned. Considering the small size of the country which will remain under Turkish control it may be that the remnant will have to be content to share an American minister with Bulgaria and any other state that may remain in the Balkans.

BRAZILIAN STRIKERS RETURNING TO JOBS

SANTOS, Brazil, Oct. 22.—The strike situation here gives promise of speedy improvement. The dock services have become almost normal again and the expectation is that the general strike will end tomorrow, when the newspapers, the street cars and the railways, street cars and motor buses again in operation. The strike of the Santos city company's employees, however, is continuing because of the refusal of the company to take back a majority of the workers. No disorders have been reported.

Moving Pictures

Majestic.

Cows are notoriously unromantic. This fact is permanent in the minds of "Jinx," starring lively Mabel Normand, which is attracting crowds to the Majestic and which closes tonight.

Furring kittens are affectionate, little birds sing sweetly, and the deer in our parks have soft melting eyes, but the cow is just all cow. "Cupid" means a love story, when Mabel Normand as a forlorn little circus waif meets her lover, Slicker the wild man, and they lean against the supposedly friendly cow to pour out their declarations of love. Slicker, the wild man, and they lean against the supposedly friendly cow to pour out their declarations of love. Slicker, the wild man, and they lean against the supposedly friendly cow to pour out their declarations of love.

Strand.

The stage version of "Oh, Boy!" was probably the most extensively exploited musical comedy production of the last decade. Albert Capellani, the screen genius who directed Nasmova in "The Red Lantern," "Eye for Eye," "Out of the Fog," etc., has pictured "Oh, Boy!" and in describing the film version he coined a new word, "Musical Comedy." "Oh, Boy!" will be played at the Strand theater, starting Thursday.

A thoroughly entertaining mystery story is developed through a series of thrilling incidents in "The Grim Game," which Houdini, the celebrated illusionist, is appearing at the Strand for the last time today. The same feats which have amazed vaudeville audiences are included in the picture, and others even more sensational have been added.

AMUSEMENTS

Orpheum.

The word "out" no longer means a fruit consisting of a kernel inclosed in a hard woody shell. Today "out" means an eccentric comedian of the extemporaneous style, and in this class there are none quite so witty as Bert Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald, a unique blend of various comedy ingredients, is at the Orpheum this week, who describes himself as the "original daff." Everything to exhilarate the spectator looking for more than diversion is what is promised in John Ford's latest production, "The Lyric," starting next Saturday matinee, for a limited engagement of two performances.

Pretty girls, beautiful costumes and catchy airs abound in this offering in which Miss Miriam Mason takes the title role, George Kline and Sam Howard as Robert Simpson and Laura Moser, respectively, proprietors of the "Bride Shop," in which the first scene is set.

Patrons of Loew's Lyceum will be treated to a vaudeville bill of more than usual merit during the second half of the week, beginning Thursday.

A chance meeting between an actress and a "stage slapper," who are engaged in a show, affords an opportunity for Harry Holden and Lucy Herron to engage in a witty dialogue in the comedy sketch, "The Billposter." It is said to be one of the best booked here this season.

"Between the Reels," an artistic operatic comedy by Cecilia Rhoda and George Crumpton, Billy Morris and Bert Sherwood in darktown rags and dances; Johnny Dyer, Charles Rogers and Evelyn Bell, a trio of original fun-makers, and Juggling Delia complete the new bill.

Hale Hamilton is starred in "The Four Funnies," which will be the film feature. It is a comedy of the "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" type.

The popularity which, after three many years still clings to Bud Fisher's "Mutt and Jeff" must be perennial, for a goodly sized audience witnessed Gus Hill's version of "Mutt and Jeff's Dream" at the Lyric on Tuesday night. We don't know how many years Mutt and Jeff have been coming, but the title seems never to wear out. Children and old folk seemed to enjoy the "dream" Tuesday night, and the company was a fair one.

No doubt many of those who follow these funny fellows in the newspapers will help to swell the houses at the Lyric and night performances Wednesday.

"Leave It to Jane." One of the many charming features in "Leave It to Jane," the smashing musical comedy success, which R. R. Constock and Morris Gest will present at the Lyric next Monday and Tuesday, with a special matinee Tuesday, is the chorus. The young ladies of the ensemble and chorus of "Leave It to Jane" represent distinct types of fasci-

VALUE CAN'T BE ESTIMATED IN MONEY

Mrs. Roberts Says She and Her Two Children Permanently Relieved.

SHE PRAISES LUNG-VITA

Children Were Relieved of Bronchial Troubles and She of Asthma.

Lung-Vita Now Called L.V.

"I wish to supplement my statement made in April of last year in regard to the benefits from Lung-Vita to my and my children," says Mrs. W. E. Roberts, 517 Read avenue, Chattanooga, Tenn.

"I have not had any symptoms of asthma in six months and believe am permanently relieved of this distressing disease. Nor have my two children, who took Lung-Vita for bronchial troubles, suffered any relapse. I know of a certainty that it has worked wonders in my household, and I can say enough in praise of it. It is possible to estimate in dollars the value I have received from using Lung-Vita. October 1918, the name Lung-Vita was changed to L.V. However, under the name L.V. you get exactly the same medicine Mrs. Roberts recommends. Ask your druggist for Lung-Vita and you will find it a fine medicine."

Give your hens Don Sung and water results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs and is one of the best. It is given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if you don't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 25 cents for package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dunlop Co., 233 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.
